well al you must of got by this time so you don't well al you must of got by this time so you don't have no supprise in the elitest wen i pull new militerry lang witch you havent never herd befoar. You cod i was kiding about the Detale but believe me all things was never no kiding about that as their wont be about my kiding at becaus it is strait stuff ime writeing you from hear although the admitt sum of it sounds a good deal like kiding.

That's hecaus their is so mutch diffronts between the things you do in Sivillain life and what you do in the armie and their is beside a lot of diffronts in the words you use for the things you do, that Detale food you about the kitchun polees is 1 of them & ime going to tell you about this other one this orderly witch isent orderly the same as you mean orderly back home. Orderly in keeping your shoes under the bed when they mite be on top of the dresser in Sivillain life, hear in militerry life orderly is running a round for some 1 clis because their is so many folias hear thus officers and cant run so pryvats are called orderly when they do this.

Resping shoes under the bed has nothink to do inspeckshun. well al I day i was isving on my cost not inspects our my cost not inspects on my cost not inspects our my cost not inspects on my cost not in some I clis became their in so many felias hear thans officers and cant run so pryvaits are called orderly when they do this.

Resping shoes under the bed has nothink to do with orderly hear it is imspeckshun, well all day it was isying on my cost not doing mutch but laying their and thinking about Agrie wen my name was hollered out and I guit laying and jumpt up it was the sarpint & he has ben soar at me ever sents I thowed him up on the whistalling. I ternd about this orderly bisaus thro this same earlies as the 1 I ternd the whistalline including irom. he ced to me after I jumpt up from laying on my cost pryvat Jim you will plees be orderly, whats the matter sarje I replide don't you think ime orderly enugh allready come hear & take a slant at my cost and stud. He calld me a stiff or samitting all but I dident have off and drive bim I as perhaps I should of you know me al. but he is a Sarjint and fitting a sarjint is stirr to do than to got a weigh with. the sarjint as fve menshunned befoar has most influent than a pryvats fist has so I cod well what do you wan then.

In cod you are want it as an orderly. Freed an orderly what, Ime allways orderly sarjint and he annotered back quick and sampry you are want it as an orderly for the carnel he has heard you no sumthing about hourses is that trus, well all i of droppt a couple remarks about playing the points or sumthing but I of never hen on a hoarse or near I as a driver. It was a grait more the all the carnel was wanting to giv me so I dident want to dis appoint him and be side their isont nothing a bout a hoarse that cant be leven be as mear as from me to you to a hoarse often & a friend of mine driven a milk truk, well cut that stuff and come like a did the sarjint sure ime an old hand at this hoarse stuff sarje ive ben at mear as from me to you to a hoarse often & a friend of mine driven a milk truk, well cut that stuff and come law a first him to the sarjint and we marcht out of the bar up up to wear the stabuls is localit it being the orderly so the sarj

COL. HOUSE IS SURPRISED BY FITNESS OF TROOPS

BY FITNESS OF TROOPS

With the American Army, Dec. 1.
Cel. E. M. House and the other members of the American mission with Gen Peraking and viscount North-elitfe, inspected the American army yesterday. Col. House said he would tell president Wilson that the energy, fitness and enthusiasmi of the men far surpassed anything he had expected.

"I watched the maneurers and my the men work," he added. They are fille. I hope those hery realise that the security of the United States for at least 180 years depends upon them. If earnestness is any indication, they understand what is before them and what they are expected to do."

The members of the mission also visited the rearry afficers' irading school and army headquarters. Later they departed for Paris—(By A. P.)
